

Hissing Bitterness EP Release and National Tour (August 2016)

Andrew Samuel announces new EP and national tour. Hissing Bitterness is the second EP from Andrew Samuel and will be available August 27, 2016.

Co-produced by Andrew Samuel and Ryan Brennan (Phantastic Furniture), this EP will be one of the simplest and most revealing releases of 2016. All of the songs are built around two chords, with minimal instrumentation and lyrics at the front and centre.

This EP is a kind of proud ode to loneliness, fear and murky secrets.

After recording a highly produced single earlier in the year, Andrew wanted to go back to a simpler and more organic approach.

“It’s the words or the relationship between the words that work as the melody, chorus, hook on this EP. If they don’t resonate then this will be a painful, or at least tedious, listening experience.”

Guitar sounds were all created using real reverb, recording in the hallways of Andrew’s share house with microphones spread throughout the house. Vocals were recorded alone in Andrew’s bedroom and only minimal tweaks made in the studio. In every way this was the opposite of a traditional recording process.

The EP was mastered by Andrew Edgson at Studios 301.

Andrew will be touring nationally on the following dates:

25.08 The End (Brisbane)
28.08 Petersham Bowls Club (Sydney)
29.08 The Front (Canberra)
30.08 Billroy's Blues Bar (Bendigo)
01.09 Bar Open (Melbourne)
04.09 The Brisbane Hotel (Tasmania)
